Threats of Violence Publicy Uttered—Suspects Found Hiding in Colored Quarter.

Atlanta, Ga., June 2.—Walter Wilkes and Joel Maynard, both colored, have been arrested by detectives here in connection with the murder of Mrs. Sarah C. Stevens, and her adopted 15-year-old daughter Nellie,,whose charred bones were discovered in the ashes of the Stevens residence of the McDonouh road, last Wednesday morning.

It is said that Wade Stevens, son of the murdered woman, told one of the colored men that his mother and adopted sister would be alone Tuesday night. Young Stevens who assisted the detectives in apprehending the colored men, and who was ordered held by the coroner's jury, has been liberated and declared free from suspicion. His chum, "Red" Merchant, who was taken into custody with young Stevens, was also released. The two suspects are held without bond.

The prisoners were found in hiding in the colored quarter by young Stevens, who notified the police, and their arrest followed. They were placed in the Atlanta jail, as the officers believed they would be lynched if taken to DeKalb county. Threats of violence were openly made.

The prisoners admitt they knew that Mrs. Stevens and daughter were alone in the house on the night of the murder. But they deny that they commit ted the crime.

Wilkes and Maynard were seen loitering near the Stevens home on the eve of the tragedy.

LOBBY INQUIRY STARTED TODAY

Senator Ransdell Preparing Speech From His Own Viewpoint.

WILL RUSH INQUIRY.

Every Effort Will be Made to Locate Foes of Tariff Bill—Large Crowd in Committee Room.

Washington June 2.—The Senate started today trailing the "numerous and insidious lobby" which President Wilson says is organzied here against the tariff bill.

A special subcommitee headed by Senator Overman began its questioning of all members of the upper house in an endeavor to ascertain through a careful prepared list of questions just who is at work attempting to influence legislation what steps they have taken, and, incidentally, whether the legislators themselves have any financial interest in pending measures.

Because it was a proceeding unparalleled in Congressional history, a big crowd packed the Judiciary Committees hearing room occupying every available chair.

While the subcommitttee was enering into the investigation, Senators Ransdell of Louisian, was preparing to make such a speech in the Senate in which he will deal with the lobby question from another viewpoint than that of President Wilson.

Sen. Ransdell's utterances will be in the nature of a reply to the president,and though not openly labelled so He will admit the existence of a lobby here but he will maintain that it is the lobby chiefly of the sugar trust and not the lobby of the domestic producers of sugar.

It is the purpose of the subcommittee to rush the inquiry through as quickly as possible. If it can be done in ten days it will be done. Otherwise an extension of time will be asked. Members of the subcommittee feel that the investigation ought to be concluded by the time the tariff bill is reported back to the senate.

ANNIVERSARY OF PONTIFF'S BIRTH

Pius X. Receives Many Messages From Rulers of The World.

TENTH YEAR AS POPE.

Reaches Seventy-Eighth Mile Post on Journey of Life—Completely Recovered From Illness.

Rome, Italy, June 2—Hundreds of telegrams and cablegrams from all over the world poured into the vatican today, congratulating His Holiness Pope Pius X upon his seventy-eighth birthday.

The occasion was celebrated as of triple significance, marking the Pontik's birthday almost the close of his tenth year as Pope, and his complete recovery from his recent illnes.

The messages came from almost every crowned head an druler in the world, and from all the church disgitaries besides from many laymen. All day long a procession of prelates, royal messengers and diplomats accredited to the vatican entered and left the big gates, carrying their congratulations to the Holy Father.

His physicians allowed him to receive only a part of his visitors, the Pope being still easily fatigued, as the result of his sickness, but his sisters and Cardinal Merry Del Val received all comers.

All the day the white and gold pontifical flags waved from every staff of the Vatican, and the Swiss guards wore their dress uniforms. In forenoon the guards' band gave a concert in the San Damasco court. Pope Pius sat at a window above them through almost the entire and, when he arose to leave, his benediction to the players.

The excellent health of the Pope to day reminded the superstitious in Rome, that when on August 9 he completes his tenth year as pontiff, Pope Pius will have broken the spell in which number 9 has heretofore held his life. He served nine years as curate, nine years as village priest, nine years as chancellor of the diocese, nine years as bishop, and nine years as cordial and patriarch of Venice.

Some believe that since Pope Pius finally stretched his tenue over the fateful nine years he will be pope another nine years before he dies.

DEADLOCK ON LIQUOR BILL

New Ordinance Should Have Gone Into Effect Today--No Change in Situation

It was supposed that a called meeting of the Common Council would have been called for tonight to take action concerning the new license bill which was materially amended by the Board of Aldermen last Friday night. The upper board refused to concur in the action of the Common Council and restored the license tax on the sale of liquor to the old figures after the lower board had increased the same $100. Of course business continues as usual the saloonkeepers and others engaged in the sale of liquor having taken out their state licenses.

The city has found itself in a singular situation, as the new bill should have gone into effect yesterday, June 1, and the ordinance imposing license taxes should have been adopted and published officially before that date.

So far as could be learned no movement was made today towards having a meeting of the lower board called for tonight, and no one seems to be able to see the road out of the difficulty. The only outlet appears to be in a conference committee of the two boards, as those who voted on the bill in the two branches seems at present to be standpatters.

TRIP TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

The "Augusta," the fleetest craft in its class that glides the Potomac, again covered herself with glory yesterday, and Admiral Calmes was there to share in the victories of the day. It was a jolly party and they were entertained at the summer home of Leo McKinney. White House Landing is an ideal spot and what nature has forgotten in decoration human ingenuity has furnished. Engineer Travers was at his post and saw that the "Augusta" did her best There were no less than fifty pleasure boats with their burdens of human freight enjoying the day and it was indeed a panoramic view as these beautiful yachts passed our city bedecked with flags and bunting and the sweet voices of male and female made one feel that life is still worth the living.

Two years ago the ladies of the Seventeenth Virginia Chapter tendered an invitation to R. E. Lee Camp to attend a reception given in honor of Mr Davis' birthday and a most enjoyable evening was experienced by all who attended.

WHITE MAN CUT BY NEGRO

Row in Saloon Ends in Murderous Attack by Black Who Wielded Knife

On last Saturday night a difficulty took place in a saloon in the extreme northern portion of the city between John Gilmartin, Jr., and a negro, whose name could not be ascertained, during which the latter made a murderous attack upon the young white man used a knife. Gilmartin was seriously wounded by the negro so that it was necessary to hurry him to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment. Upon reaching that institution Dr. Gorman was summoned and it was found necessary to take eighteen stitches in his wounds.

The assailant who is unknown to Gilmartin managed to make his escape. The police were notified and they are endeavoring to identify the negro and take him in custody.

Unfortunately for the authorities, it is extremely difficult in such cases to secure information as negroes are not eager to give informattion where members of their race are involved in difficulties, hence the work of analyzing a fight in a suburban saloon is one of the most difficult the police can be confronted with.

CARDINALS WIN TWICE.

The Cardinals defeated the Alexandria Athletic Club, at the baseball park, Saturday, by the score of 9 to 2. The feature of the game was the work of Dallas Banzette, who played shortstop for the Cardinals, both in batting and fielding. This lad some years ago was a star, and his general playing Saturday demonstrated that they can 'come back." Quite a number of former Alexandria baseball stars can also "come back" if they so desire. It would be a treat to the fans to again see their diamond favorites "in action."

Sunday the Cardinals were the guest of the "Soldier Sons of Uncle Sam" at Fort Washington Md., and spent one of the most pleasant days of their existence. The ending of the baseball game was as follows:

" ENOLA H. "

Capt. Sidney L. Smith, of this city, and owner of the beautiful club house, "Enola," one of the coziest places on the Potomac, Saturday evening last launched his handsome new gasoline launch "Enola II," and Sunday gave her a trial. The Enola behaved nicely and bids fair to ride the billows with any craft of similar size on the broad Potomac. (E.)

Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, says the encampment will consist of the cream of the army,that it will be the largest of the kind ever held in the United States, and many theories of cavalry manoeuvers will be tried out to demonstrate their practicability in actual warfare.

The members of the general staff and many other high officers will spend most of their time here, and military experts are coming from Europe to study the manoeuvers. Officers who inspected the site say it is ideal and it is possible the War Department will finally convert it into a regular army post.

Drowned at Ocean View.

Norfolk, Va., June 2.—While bathing at Ocean View yesterday afternoon, Cornelius Gilbert, about 18, of Norfolkwas drowned. The body had not been recovered up to a late hour tonight. With several friends young Gilbert went down to the View to enjoy a bath. He swam well out and is supposed to have been seized with cramps as there was no outcry and he was not missed until several hours later, when it was found that he had not returned to the bath house for his clothing.

OPPOSE FISH BILL.

Northern Neck Thought to be Endangered by Act.

Heathsville, Va., June 2.—It is evident that the bills which will be offered to congress by Congressman J. Charles Linthicum, of Baltimore, which are said to have the backing of the United States bureau of fisheries, as well as many prominent Virginia and Maryland people, will precipitate a fight from the fish factorymen of the Northern Neck when they go to congress.

The bills as proposed will deal a heavy blow at the fertilizer factories and the catching of menhaden in nets, and will seriously affect the industry, which is developing into one of the most profitable enterprises in Virginia. This one industry more than all others combined, perhaps, has poured wealth into the coffers of the people of the Northern Neck. It has made Reedville, in the lower end of Northumberland, the wealthiest town per capita in the United tSates, as well as a progressive business center.

More than fifty fine fishing steamers, employing hundreds of men, and representing in value thousands of dollars, go out from this section in search of bunkers every year, and the value of the factories and equipment runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Any legislation, that threatens the reduction of this business will meet with most hearty opposition in this section of Virginia.

Mrs. Wm. Spruce, of Altadena, Cal. was in a state of collapse for a day as a result of the ordeal she suffered when her 11-months-old daughter was thrown from an automobile over the edge of a precipiceonly to be caught by a protruding limb, where the child was held fast by her clothing until rescued an hour later by her father. Spruch noticed the baby swinging from the limb and hurried to the home of a rancher and obtained aid. He descended on the end of a rope and disengaged the child's clothing.

ASYLUM INMATE KILLED.

Mrs. Margaret Pollard Escapes From Party And Meets Death.

Staunton, Va., June 2.—Mrs. Margaret J. Pollard, twenty-six years old, an inmate of the Western State Hospital, was killed here Saturday morning on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, at Peck's crossing just outside of city limits.

She had been to a moving picture show with others from the asylum and in some way escaped from them. The body was found by trainmen of the 4:23 train.

She had been in the hospital three years coming here from Charlottesville. She leaves a husband and three children.

FRIDAY'S STORM.

Three Lives Lost—Boats Capsized And Houses Wrecked.

Norfolk, Va., June 2.—With reports from nearby towns received, the havoc wrought by Frday night's storm is more serious than at first reported While only two lives are known to have been lost in this immediate section, there is a persistent report in circulation that a party of twelve people left for Smithfield, Va., in a launch, and have not been heard from. This report, however, lacks confirmation. The two-masted schooner Lane, loaded with oysters, was caught in the storm in York river and was capsized Two members of the crew wee drowned. Twenty-five houses were completely wrecked in Sopth Norfolk, and at least sixty were damaged.

Gloucester Courthouse, Va., June 2.—A violet storm swept over part of ths county Friday afternoon. Lightning struck one house in Sadlers Neck and two in Guinea. I.i Sadlers Neck Mr. Ernest Corr, a young man was killed. Thomas Corr was in the room with his son, Ernest, and was shocked, but not seriously hurt. An unknown boat, a bug eye, cast anchor at Claaybank, btu as the squall struck and before the sail could be taken in upset. It is not known what crew she carried, or what has become of the crew. The hail was terrible in some places and the damage to crops very great. At the home of M. L. Moore seven trees in the yard were blown down. The children had not long returned home and had left the buggy in the yard. A tree went down on the buggy and damaged it a good deal. The hail seems to have been confined to the York river section.

STORM IN KENTUCKY.

Several People Killed and Great Damage Reported.

Lexington,Ky. June 2—Several people were killed and thousands of dollars in damage to agricultural live stock and buildings, was entailed by a terriffic rain and hail storm which swept over Central Kentucky yesterday afternoon.

Tobacco growers will probably suffer greatest loss, as plants set out last week were entirely destroyed,grains were beaten down and were totally ruined, and hundreds of live stock were killed. It was reported here an entire family were killed on a farm near Lexington, when the wind tore the roof from a house and the building collapsed, burying the family under the debris.

Lightning also played havoc, destroying many farm buildings, and caused the burning of miles of timberland on the hillsides.

THE CRY OF FALSE PROPHETS.

During the last campaign for the presidency Republican prophets told us from the stump that a period of hard times would inevitably follow Democratic success. All during the present extra session of Congress, while a new tariff bill is in course of construction, a horde of calamity howlers, favoring protection, have by every means in their power sought to convince the country that on political party can make radical tariff cuts without disturbing national prosperity. They now claim that the President and Vice President foreseeing an evil effect of the Underwood revision and desiring to shift responsibility for a financial depression to other than Democratic shoulders, are going about the country uttering fearsome forebodings as to how certain financiers are intent on bringing on a panic after the new tariff bill becomes law.

It is well to take an optimistic view of the situation, for the wish, perhaps, may be father to the thought of some of those whose influence is responsible for much of the pessimistic utterance of the republican protectionists, and certainly these men will not look with favor upon any measure intended to work to the benefit of ninety millions of people, while keeping dollars out of their pockets, already full to bursting with money placed there through legislative favors. Moreover, their views of alram have no justifiable basis in fact.

Of course, as yet. no one can tell what the exact effect of their tariff bill will be on American industries. In fact, the situation in the Senate is sufficiently tense to leave some little question as to what the character of that bill will be when it finally goes to the President for his signature.

Just now, however, there is one very encouraging feature of the business situation. The exports of the United States for April were fifty millions of dollars in excess of our imports. This is the largest favorable trade balance the country has had in any month for ten years. For the ten months ending April 1st our excess of exports over imports amounted to more than five hundred millions—the largest favorable trade balance for a like period, with one exception, in a decade.

This is undoniably a very encouraging feature of the present business situation in the United States. It means that, in spite of our very evident individual extravagances, the country is economizing as far as its total resources are concerned. It means, also, that with average crops during the present season, neither Underwood tariff bill nor anything else can bring on a financial depression, and that the doleful protectionist prophets will be without honor in their own country.

CARUSO GETS INTO MORE TROUBLE.

Caruso is in trouble again. It is the same old imputation—aggressiveness towards the feminine gender.

The great tenor was one of the actors in a scene which occurred Saturday in the Savoy Hotel, London. There was no sequel in the police court although fistcuffs were barely avoided.

He is charged with annoying an American by ogling a woman whom the American was escorting. Caruso is said to have called the attention of his secretary, Weber, to the woman in such fashion as to make his notice of her conspicuous. The American took umbrage, and, stepping up to the tenor, told him in a voice heard all over the foyer that he should be ashamed of himself so to direct attention of any gentlewoman.

"I am Caruso" replied the tenor, "I do what tI like."

The American thereupon advanced on Caruso threateningly. The tenor beat a hastry retreat, taking refuge in an elevator.

Secretary Weber took the American by the shoulder and said:

"If you wern't an old man I'd knock your head off!"

That insult enraged the American who rushed at Weber. A bystander interfered and led Weber away despite the secretary's struggles.

It will be remembered that several years ago a woman had Caruso arrested in New York on the charge of taking liberties with her in front of a monkey cage in Central Park. The complainant alleged that the tenor "tickled her under the chin." Caruso emphatically denied the charge, but the woman was positive in hed identification of her alleged assailant. I was suggested by some of the tenor's friends that it wasa case of mistaken identity, and that one of the simians had mischievously extended has paw through the bars of his cage and taken liberties with her chin. The matter was finally dropped. The incident in the London hotel is calculated to cause people who were not interested in the Central Park scene to believe the charge against Caruso had some basis.

Aside from the times when you drank a little white wine with your dinners, took a little champagne at public banquets, sipped a short julep when the mint was blooming, drank a little milk punch to make you sleep and took a short one when the doctor ordered it, didn't you Theodore, honestly, now that the tidal is over, ever get a skin-full?

From the out-again-in-again policy they have adopted with Mrs. Pankhurst, she ought to change her name to Finnegan.

It doesn't make any difference whether he is in a New York monkey house or a London Hotel, he is just the same old Caruso.

Now our Senator Martin is introducing a bill to keep husbands and wives from being given emplomentunder the federal government We don't get you, Senator. Which one of them do you want to have the job?

Until Shanks' shank recovers we'll probably see a Cubanola glide in left field.

The tender sensibilities of proud Boston are about to receive an awful shock. The barbers are on a strike up there, and the city will specialize in under-brush for a spell.

Held For Murder.

Two patrol loads of police were hurried to the vicinity of 40th street and second avenue at Council Bluffs, Ia., last night to break up a mob which had gathered with the intention, it was believed to secure possession of Francisco Guidice, known also as Henry Wiley, who is being held for the murder of Howard Jones, last Tuesday night. The police learned that an attempt would be made to drive all Italians and Greeks from the city, and last night's gathering is believed to have that result in view.

PROWLING NEGROES.

Attempt to Force Entrance to Houses in Alexandria County.

Three prowling negroes have been seen near the tracks of the Washington-Virginia Railway and the Bluemont crossing during the past several days. Last night about eleven o'clock they attempted to force an entrance into the home of Mr. Hall, in Alexandria county.

Mrs. Hall was the only one home at the time, and refused to open the door when a negro knocked and asked admittance. Refusing to answer the woman's questions Mrs. Hall did not open the door to see who was knocking. From an upstairs window, however, she caught a glimpse of a negro she descibes as being about 30 or 35 years of age, but on account of the darkness and her frightened condition she could not give a clear description of the man.

The negroes went after leaving Mrs. Hall's place to the home of Captain F. Beattie, nearby, and tried the door at the rear of the house. Mr. Beattie says he heard the negroes when they attempted to open the door, but thought nothing of it at the time, as he did not suspect any prowlers were in the neighborhood.

Mr. Hall upon his return home shortly after the negroes left the neighborhood was informed by Mrs. Hall of what had occurred He secured his revolver and went in pursuit of the men, but was unable to find them.

When the mother realized that it was her own daughter, She collapsed. The child had been killed instantly.

the above described prpoerty.

This tract, the old home of Lord Fairfax and separated from George Washington's home at Mt. Vernon by Dogue Creek, originally consisted of approximately twenty-seven hundred, (2,700) acres, of which 1,500 acres has been taken by the United States Government for a school of Equitation of Horsemanship. The balance, between ten and twelve hundred acres consists of valuable farming lands and about eight hundred (800) acres of valuable timber It has a large deep water frontage on the Potomac river as well as a large frontage on Dogue Creek, with valuable fishing shores. The property is improved by an old mansion house, familiarly known for many years as the "White House," a club house, barns, stables, out-buildings and tenant houses. It is situated on the county road between Mt. Vernon and Accotink, and is about four miles by road from Mt. Vernon. This property is one of the most historic in the section and would make a very desirable country estate because of its location and the opportunities afforded for fishing and shooting.
